SOCIAL MEDIA IN HIGHER EDUCATION

Case Studies, Reflections and Analysis

EDITED BY CHRIS ROWELL

Social Media and Higher Education

Case Studies, Reflections and Analysis

Chris Rowell (ed.)

[An] excellent and accessible starting point, as well as a route to deeper understanding and more sophisticated use of social media. A timely publication, it hums with the energy of multiple voices and viewpoints.

--- Professor Shân Wareing, London South Bank University

How does social media affect working life in Higher Education? How are universities harnessing its power to aid student learning? This innovative collection brings together academics and those working in professional services to examine these questions and more. The diverse and expert contributors analyse the many ways social media can be used to enhance teaching and learning, research, professional practice, leadership, networking and career development. The impact of social media is evaluated critically, with an eye both to the benefits and the problems of using these new forms of digital communication.

This is the first volume to give such detailed attention to this area of high interest. Its innovative approach extends to its creation, with contributors found via their presence on Twitter. The short and impactful chapters are accessible while retaining an academic focus through their application of relevant learning theory and educational context.

About Us

Open Access

Researchers, authors and funding bodies are increasingly realising that the high price of access to academic books and journals means that only a select few can read them. Open Access (that is, making texts free to read and reuse) helps spread research results and other educational materials to everyone everywhere, not just to those who can afford it or have access to well-endowed university libraries.

Open Book Publishers

Open Book Publishers is a non-profit, Open Access publisher based in Cambridge (UK) and run by scholars who are committed to making high-quality research freely available to readers around the world. We publish Open Access monographs and textbooks across all disciplines, offering the academic excellence of a traditional press with the speed, convenience and accessibility of digital publishing.

All our books are available to read for free online. To date we have over 140 books in print, more than 30,000 visits per month and readers worldwide. To find out more, visit us at
